The 2011 Board of Commissioners features a new Chair and new Vice Chair, and eight new members – almost one-third of the board. Michael Gingell, the former Vice Chair, was unanimously elected Chair, taking over from Bill Bullard Jr., who is now the Oakland County Clerk. The new Vice-Chairman is attorney Jeff Matis, an accomplished pilot. Other new members are businessman and farmer Bob Hoffman; Bill Dwyer, a retired police chief; Kathy Crawford, a published author; attorney Mike Bosnic; Beth Nuccio, the director of career services at Baker College and a FIRST Lego Robotics coach; Craig Covey, a former Mayor; Nancy Quarles, a former state representative; and attorney Philip Weipert, who is very active in Southwest Oakland County government and civic organizations.

COUNTY TO CONTINUE HOUSING COUNSELING

For the last several years, Oakland County has offered counseling services to citizens facing foreclosure on their homes. The program is administered through the county's Community and Home Improvement Division. Funding for the service has been provided by the federal government.

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has seen the value of the program, and has granted the county $93,000 to continue it. The grant was accepted in February.

If you need advice and assistance to try and keep your home from being foreclosed, contact the Office of Housing Counseling in the Community and Home Improvement Division. Call 248-858-5402 or click the URL below:

Commissioner Scott Listens to National Anthem

Fifth District Commissioner John Scott stands with hand on heart as Elissa Harrison sings the Star Spangled Banner at the Inauguration Ceremony for the 2011-2012 Board. The ceremony preceded the first commission meeting of 2011.
