Four arrested for drug charges at Ferndale home

FERNDALE — Ferndale police assisted the Oakland County Sheriff’s Office in raiding a suspected drug house after neighbors complained about suspicious activity on the property.

According to Detective Lt. Bill Wilson, police began investigating the home — located in the 1300 block of Camden Street — after it was suspected that illegal drug use and prostitution were taking place there.

After the Oakland County Narcotics Enforcement Team (NET) found evidence of drug activity inside the house, a search warrant was obtained. Officers from Ferndale police and NET then executed the search at around 3:15 p.m. on May 13, Wilson said.

Arrests were made after police entered the home and recovered drugs and paraphernalia indicating that the house was used for activities involving heroin, cocaine and marijuana. All four people found in the house are being charged with drug-related crimes, Wilson said.

No additional information was available at press time.
