An Oxford Township man has been charged with molesting three young girls — including a relative — between 2004 and 2009, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Office today.

Joseph Anthony Barnowsky, 66, was arraigned in 52-3 District Court in Rochester Hills on Friday on two counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct, which carries a penalty of up to life in prison, and five counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct, police said.

According to the sheriff's office, Barnowsky will be back in court Monday for a pre-exam conference.

Police said Barnowsky allegedly molested a relative and a friend of the relative between 2004 and 2006, starting when the girls were 12 years old, and a friend of one of his younger female relatives in August 2009 when the girl was approximately 10.

The assaults, police said, took place in Barnowsky's mobile home and at his son's mobile home in the same park when he was baby-sitting the children. According to the sheriff's office, Barnowsky would give the girls cigarettes, alcohol and marijuana and show them pornography.

Police said Barnowsky is still in the Oakland County Jail, with bond was set at $350,000 cash or surety, police said.
