

'EYEHATEGOD' fan arrested in church break-in

Posted: 09/13/2010

Last Updated: 11 hours and 34 minutes ago

Rochester Hills, Mich. (WXYZ) - Deputies from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department arrested 22-year-old Bradley Dishner Saturday morning for breaking into the St. Paul Albanian Catholic church on Auburn Road in Rochester Hills.

Deputies were called to the parish after a member of the church saw glass broken out of a door.

A man was spotted by a priest in the altar area of the church, but he ran out of the church and into the woods.

Deputies caught the man in the wooded area behind the church and took him into custody. He was wearing a t-shirt that read "EYEHATEGOD" on the front and back. It is the name of an American metal band. He told deputies he had been drinking and smoking marijuana before breaking into the church.

Dishner was arraigned Monday in Oakland County. He is currently in the Oakland County Jail.

Deputies say there was nothing stolen or vandalized other than the door.

WINTER IS COMING... ARE YOU READY?

Family

HEATING, COOLING & ELECTRICAL, INC.

NOW!
$69.95
REGULAR PRICE $89.95

FURNACE CLEANING & INSPECTION DEAL!

EXPIRES 12/31/10 CLICK HERE FOR DETAILS

advertisement

•  PRINT

ShareThis •  Comments

Most recent