

PROGRAM AGENDA

Welcome/Opening Remarks

John P. McCulloch, Oakland County Water Resources Commissioner

Dr. Virinder Moudgil, Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost,
Oakland University

Featured Presenters

Lana Pollack, Chair of U.S. Section, International
Joint Commission

Dr. Edith Chopin, Assistant Professor of Environmental Chemistry, Oakland University

Break

Keynote Address

"Unquenchable: America's Water Crisis and What to do About It"

Robert Glennon, Author and Professor of Law and Public Policy at the University of Arizona

Comments and Questions

Moderator: John P. McCulloch

Conclusion

John P. McCulloch

Book Signing of Professor Glennon's book, Unquenchable

For more information about Unquenchable and author
Robert Glennon, please visit www.rglennon.com.

You are cordially invited to attend the

Clinton River Review 2010

Sponsored by Oakland University and Oakland County Water Resources Commissioner
John P. McCulloch

Celebrating Our Success
Identifying Our Challenges
Building the Team to Complete the Job

Friday, October 1, 2010

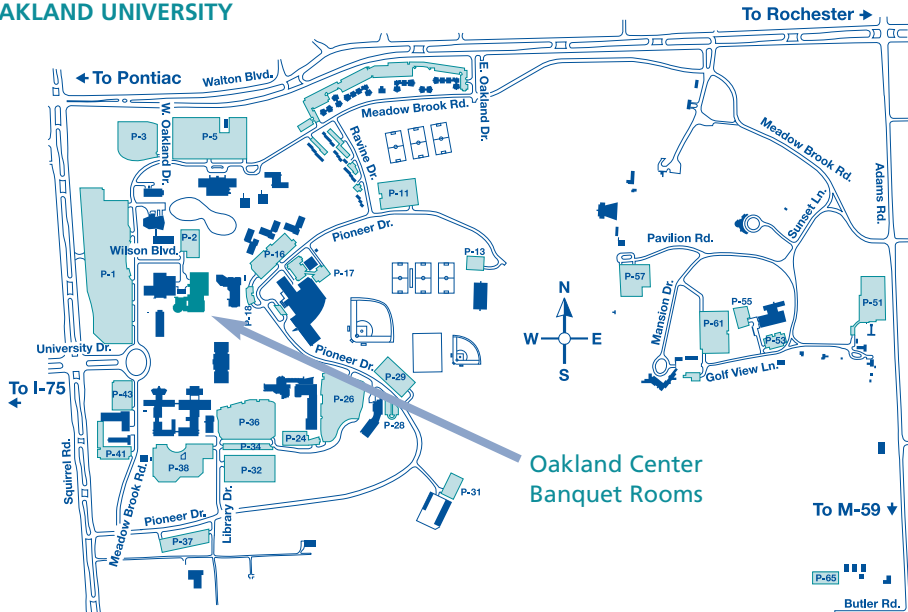

Oakland Center Banquet Rooms
Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan

Registration and continental breakfast begin at 8:30 a.m.

Please RSVP with the enclosed card, e-mail the requested information to envreq@oakgov.com or call (248) 858-0958 by September 24. There is no cost to attend this event.

Planning Committee: Clinton River Watershed Council, Macomb County Health Department, Oakland County Planning and Economic Development Services, Oakland County Water Resources
Commissioner's Office and Oakland University.

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

Some roads may be closed for construction. Please visit oakland.edu/map for complete details. Please arrive early to ensure convenient parking.